Promoting Empathic Mindset

What words do I hope my student uses to describe me?

What do I say and do on a regular basis so that my student is likely to use the words I hope s/he uses?

What words do I think my student would actually use to describe me?

If the words my student uses to describe me is different from the words I hope s/he uses, what changes must I make to bring the two descriptions closer together?

Would I want anyone to say or do to me what I have just said to my student?

In anything I say or do, what do I hope to accomplish?

Am I saying or doing it in a way in which my student is most likely to listen to what I have to say, not become defensive, and respond in a constructive manner?
